2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Accounting basis - These financial statements of the Bank have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”). These financial statements are presented in thousands of Azerbaijan Manats (“AZM”) unless otherwise indicated. These financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for the revaluation of certain financial instruments.

The Bank maintains its accounting records in accordance with Azerbaijan law, which in majority complies with IFRS. These financial statements have been prepared from the Azerbaijan statutory accounting records and have been adjusted to conform to IFRS. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Estimates that are particularly susceptible to change relate to the provisions for losses on loans and impairment and the fair value of financial instruments.

Functional currency - The functional currency of these financial statements is the Azerbaijan Manat (“AZM”).

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Recognition and measurement of financial instruments - The Bank recognizes financial assets and liabilities on its balance sheet when it becomes a party to the contractual obligation of the instrument. Regular way purchases and sales of the financial assets and liabilities are recognized using settlement date accounting.

Financial assets and liabilities are initially recognized at cost, which is the fair value of the consideration given or received, respectively, net of any transaction costs incurred. The accounting policies for subsequent re-measurement of these items are disclosed in the respective accounting policies set out below.

Cash and cash equivalents - Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, unrestricted balances on correspondent accounts with the National Bank of Azerbaijan and central banks of other countries and advances to banks in countries included in the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (“OECD”). For the purposes of determining cash flows, the minimum reserve deposit required by the National Bank of Azerbaijan is not included as a cash equivalent due to restrictions on its availability (Note 11).

Loans and advances to banks - In the normal course of business, the Bank maintains advances or deposits for various periods of time with other banks. Loans and advances to banks with a fixed maturity term are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Those that do not have fixed maturities are carried at cost. Amounts due from credit institutions are carried net of any allowance for losses.

Reverse repurchase agreements - The Bank enters into purchase and sale back agreements (“reverse repos”) in the normal course of its business. Reverse repurchase agreements are utilized by the Bank as an element of its treasury management and trading business.

Assets purchased under reverse repos are recorded in the financial statements as cash placed on deposit which is collateralized by securities and other assets.

Originated loans - Loans originated by the Bank are financial assets that are created by the Bank by providing money directly to a borrower.

Loans granted by the Bank with fixed maturities are initially recognized in accordance with the policy stated below. The difference between the nominal amount of consideration given and the amortized cost of loans issued at lower than market rates is recognized in the period the loan is issued as an initial recognition adjustment discounted using market rates at inception and included in the profit and loss account as losses on origination of assets. Subsequently, the carrying amount of such loans is adjusted for amortization of the losses on origination and the related income is recorded as interest income within the profit and loss account using the effective interest method. Loans to customers that do not have fixed maturities are carried at cost. Loans and advances to customers are carried net of any allowance for loan losses.

Write off of loans and advances - Loans are written off against allowance for loan losses in the case of the uncollectibility of loans and advances, including through repossession of collateral. Loans and advances are written off after management has exercised all possibilities available to collect amounts due to the Bank and after the Bank has received all available collateral. In accordance with the statutory legislation, loans may only be written off with the approval of the Shareholders’ Council and, in certain cases, with the respective decision of the Court.

Non-accrual loans - Loans are placed on a non-accrual status when interest or principal is delinquent for a period in excess of 90 days, except when all amounts due are fully secured by cash or marketable securities and collection proceedings are in process. Interest income is not recognized if recovery is doubtful. Subsequent payments by borrowers are applied to either principal or delinquent interest based on individual arrangements with the borrower. A non-accrual loan is restored to accrual status when all principal and interest amounts contractually due are reasonably assured of repayment within a reasonable period.

Allowance for losses - The Bank establishes an allowance for losses of financial assets when it is probable that the Bank will not be able to collect the principal and interest according to the contractual terms of the financial assets, which are carried at cost or amortized cost. The allowance for losses is defined as the difference between the carrying amounts and the present value of expected future cash flows, including amounts recoverable from guarantees and collateral.

The determination of the allowance for losses is based on an analysis of the risk assets and reflects the amount, which, in the judgment of management, is adequate to provide for losses inherent in the risk assets. Provisions are made as a result of a detailed appraisal of risk assets.

The change in the allowance for loan losses is charged to the profit and loss account and the total of the allowance for losses is deducted in arriving at assets as shown in the balance sheet. Management's evaluation of the allowance is based on the Bank's past loss experience, known and inherent risks in the risk assets, adverse situations that may affect the borrower's ability to repay, the estimated value of any underlying collateral and current economic conditions.

It should be understood that estimates of losses involve an exercise of judgment. While it is possible that in particular periods the Bank may sustain losses, which are substantial relative to the allowance for losses, it is the judgment of management that the allowance for losses is adequate to absorb losses inherent in the risk assets.

Securities available for sale - Securities available for sale represent debt and equity investments that are intended to be held for an indefinite period of time. Such securities are initially recorded at cost which approximates the fair value of the consideration given. Subsequently the securities are measured at fair value, with such re-measurement included in the profit and loss account, plus accrued coupon income.

The Bank uses quoted market prices to determine fair value for the Bank's securities available for sale. If such quotes do not exist, management estimation is used. Realised and unrealised gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of securities available-for-sale are included in the profit and loss account in the period in which they arise. Interest earned on securities available-for-sale is reflected in the profit and loss account as interest income on investment securities. Dividends received are included in dividend income in the profit and loss account.

Fixed and intangible assets - Fixed and intangible assets (except for buildings) are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any recognized impairment loss. Buildings are stated at a revalued amount, being its fair value at the date of the revaluation less any subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses. Depreciation and amortization of fixed and intangible assets begins when they are available for use, i.e. when they are in the location and condition necessary for them to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. Depreciation and amortization on fixed and intangible assets is charged to write off the cost of assets over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method at the following annual rates:

Buildings	5%
Computers	25%
Furniture and equipment	20-25%
Vehicles	20%
Intangible assets	20%

When buildings are revalued, any accumulated depreciation at the date of the revaluation is eliminated against the gross carrying amount of the building and the net amount restated to the revalued amount of the building.

When carrying amount of a building is increased as a result of a revaluation, the increase is credited directly to equity under the heading of fixed assets revaluation reserve. However, a revaluation increase is recognized as income to the extent that it reverses a revaluation decrease of the same building previously recognized as an expense.

When carrying amount of a building is decreased as a result of a revaluation, the decrease is recognized as an expense. However, a revaluation decrease is charged directly against related fixed assets revaluation reserve to the extent that the decrease does not exceed the amount held in the fixed assets revaluation reserve in respect of that same building.

Properties received in satisfaction of non-performing loans - these are carried at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Impairment loss - If the recoverable amount of an asset is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable value. The difference being an impairment loss is recognized as an expense in the profit and loss account for the year in which it arises.

Finance leases - Leases that transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incident to ownership of an asset. Title may or may not eventually be transferred. Whether a lease is a finance lease or an operating lease depends on the substance of the transaction rather than the form of the contract. The lease is classified as a finance lease if:

- the lease transfers ownership of the asset to the lessee by the end of the lease term;
- the lessee has the option to purchase the asset at a price which is expected to be sufficiently lower than the fair value at the date the option becomes exercisable such that, at the inception of the lease, it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised;
- the lease term is for the major part of the economic life of the asset even if title is not transferred;
- at the inception of the lease the present value of the minimum lease payments amounts to at least substantially all of the fair value of the leased asset; and
- the leased assets are of a specialized nature such that only the lessee can use them without major modifications being made.

Bank as lessee - The Bank recognizes finance leases as assets and liabilities in the balance sheet at the inception of the lease at amounts equal to the fair value of the leased property or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. In calculating the present value of the minimum lease payments the discount factor used is the interest rate implicit in the lease, when it is practicable to determine; otherwise, the Bank's incremental borrowing rate is used. Initial direct costs incurred are included as part of the asset. Lease payments are apportioned between the finance charge and the reduction of the outstanding liability. The finance charge is allocated to periods during the lease term so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

Capital costs incurred to maintain or improve assets received under finance lease are capitalized and reported as leasehold improvements and are amortized over the term of the related lease.

Taxation - Income tax expense represents the sum of the current and deferred tax expense.

The current tax expense is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from net profit as reported in the profit and loss account because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Bank's current tax expense is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax is the tax expected to be payable or recoverable on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit, and is accounted for using the balance sheet liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences and deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the tax profit nor the accounting profit.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the liability is settled or the asset is realised. Deferred tax is charged or credited in the profit and loss account, except when it relates to items charged or credited directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is also dealt with in equity.

Azerbaijan also has various other taxes, which are assessed on the Bank's activities. These taxes are included as a component of operating expenses in the profit and loss account.

Deposits from banks and customers - Customer and bank deposits are initially recognized at cost, which amounts to the issue proceeds less transaction costs incurred. Subsequently amounts due are stated at amortized cost and any difference between net proceeds and the redemption value is recognized in the profit and loss account over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

Debt securities issued - Debt securities issued represent bonds issued by the Bank. They are accounted for according to the same principles used for customer and bank deposits.

Provisions - Provisions are recognized when the Bank has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate of the obligation can be made.

Share capital - Share capital is recognized at cost. Share capital contributions made in the form of assets other than cash are stated at their fair value at the date of contribution.

Retirement and other benefit obligations - The Bank does not incur any expenses in relation to the provision of pensions to its employees. In accordance with the legal requirements of Azerbaijan, the Bank withholds pension contributions from employee salaries and transfers them to the state pension fund. Current contributions by the Bank are calculated as a percentage of current gross salary payments with the expense charged in the period in which the related salaries are earned. Upon retirement of employees, all pension payments are administered by the above pension fund.

Contingencies - Contingent liabilities are not recognized in the financial statements unless it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made. A contingent asset is not recognized in the financial statements but disclosed when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Recognition of income and expense - Interest income and expense are recognized on an accrual basis. The recognition of interest income is suspended when loans become overdue by more than 90 days. Interest income also includes income earned on investment securities. Loan origination fees, if significant, are deferred (together with related direct costs) and recognized as an adjustment to the loan's effective yield. Commission income/expenses are recognized on an accrual basis. Other income is credited to the profit and loss account when the related transactions are completed.

Foreign currency translation - Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Azerbaijan Manats at the appropriate spot rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. Foreign currency transactions are accounted for at the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Profits and losses arising from these translations are included in net gain/(loss) on foreign exchange operations.

Rates of exchange - The exchange rates at the year end used by the Bank in the preparation of the financial statements are as follows:

	31 December 2004	31 December 2003
AZM/USD	4,903	4,923
AZM/EUR	6,682	6,195
AZM/RUR	177	167

Offset of financial assets and liabilities - Financial assets and liabilities are offset and reported net on the balance sheet when the Bank has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and the Bank intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Financial reporting in hyperinflationary economies - Economy of Azerbaijan was deemed hyperinflationary until towards the end of 1997. International Accounting Standard No. 29 "Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies" requires that financial statements of all entities that report in the currency of hyperinflationary economy be expressed in terms of the measuring unit current at the balance sheet date to reflect the loss in purchasing power of the entity resulting from hyperinflation.

When an economy ceases to be hyperinflationary, amounts expressed in the measuring unit current at the end of the hyperinflationary period become the new historical basis for subsequent periods.

Reclassifications - Certain reclassifications have been made to the financial statements as of 31 December 2003 and for the year then ended to conform to the presentation as of 31 December 2004 and for the year then ended.

25. FINANCIAL COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

In the normal course of business the Bank is a party to financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk in order to meet the needs of its customers. These instruments, involving varying degrees of credit risk, are not reflected in the balance sheet. The Bank's maximum exposure to credit loss under contingent liabilities and commitments to extend credit, in the event of non-performance by the other party where all counterclaims, collateral or security prove valueless, is represented by the contractual amounts of those instruments. The Bank uses the same credit control and management policies in undertaking off-balance sheet commitments as it does for on-balance sheet operations.

The risk-weighted amount is obtained by applying credit conversion factors and counterparty risk weightings according to the principles employed by the Basle Committee on Banking Supervision.

As of 31 December 2004 and 2003, the nominal or contract amounts and the risk weighted credit equivalents of instruments with off-balance sheet risks were:

	2004		2003
	Nominal Amount	Risk Weighted Amount	Nominal Amount	Risk Weighted Amount
Guarantees issued and similar commitments	11,880,340	11,880,340	6,356,666	6,356,666
Commitments on credits and unused credit lines	14,716,167	3,274,942	2,088,687	-
Letters of credit secured by customer funds	343,210	-	152,377	-

The Bank has made a provision of AZM 1,041,949 thousand and AZM 198,787 thousand against guarantees issued as of 31 December 2004 and 2003.

Legal proceedings - From time to time and in the normal course of business, claims against the Bank are received from customers and counterparties. Management is of the opinion that no material unaccrued losses will be incurred and accordingly no provision has been made in these financial statements.

Taxes - Azerbaijan commercial legislation and tax legislation in particular may give rise to varying interpretations and amendments. In addition, as management's interpretation of tax legislation may differ from that of the tax authorities, transactions may be challenged by the tax authorities, and as a result the Bank may be assessed additional taxes, penalties and interest. The Bank believes that it has already made all tax payments, and therefore no allowance has been made in the financial statements. Tax years remain open to review by the tax authorities for three years.

Pensions and retirement plans - Employees receive pension benefits from the Republic of Azerbaijan in accordance with the laws and regulations of the country. As of 31 December 2004 and 2003, the Bank was not liable for any supplementary pensions, post-retirement health care, insurance benefits, or retirement indemnities to its current or former employees.

27. FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Estimated fair value disclosures of financial instruments is made in accordance with the requirements of IAS 32 “Financial Instruments: Disclosure and Presentation” and IAS 39 “Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement”. Fair value is defined as the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between knowledgeable willing parties in an arm’s length transaction, other than in a forced or liquidation sale. As no readily available market exists for a large part of the Bank’s financial instruments, judgment is necessary in arriving at fair value, based on current economic conditions and specific risks attributable to the instrument. The estimates presented herein are not necessarily indicative of the amounts the Bank could realize in a market exchange from the sale of its full holdings of a particular instrument.

As of 31 December 2004 and 2003 the following methods and assumptions were used by the Bank to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instrument for which it is practicable to estimate such value:

Cash and balances with the NBA - For these short-term instruments the carrying amount is a reasonable estimate of fair value.

Loans and advances to banks - As of 31 December 2004 and 2003 the carrying amount of short-term deposits and advances given is a reasonable estimate of their fair value.

Securities purchased under agreement to resell - As of 31 December 2003 securities purchased under agreement to resell are stated at a fair value amounting to AZM 9,002,412 thousand. As of 31 December 2003, the fair value of securities purchased under agreement to resell is determined based on their market prices.

Loans and advances to customers - The fair value of the loan portfolio is based on the credit and interest rate characteristics of the individual loans within each sector of the portfolio. The estimation of the provision for loan losses includes consideration of risk premiums applicable to various types of loans based on factors such as the current situation of the economic sector in which each borrower operates, the economic situation of each borrower and guarantees obtained. Accordingly, the provision for loan losses is considered a reasonable estimate of the discount required to reflect the impact of credit risk.

Securities available-for-sale - As of 31 December 2004 and 2003 equity securities available for sale are stated at estimated fair value amounting to AZM 1,152,600 thousand. Since there is no active market for these securities and no market prices of securities with similar credit risk and/or maturity exist, management estimation was used.

Deposits and loans from banks and other institutions - As of 31 December 2004 and 2003 the carrying amount of short-term deposits and deposits repayable on demand of AZM 10,935,767 thousand and AZM 3,393,325 thousand, respectively, is a reasonable estimate of their fair value. As of 31 December 2004 and 2003 long-term deposits from banks other credit institutions are stated at cost of AZM 20,958,017 thousand and AZM 5,777,751 thousand, respectively, which management estimate approximates fair value.

Customer accounts - As of 31 December 2004 and 2003 the carrying amount of short-term deposits and current accounts of the Bank’s customers of AZM 70,289,254 thousand and AZM 43,441,403 thousand, respectively, is a reasonable estimate of their fair value. As of 31 December 2004 and 2003 long-term customer accounts are stated at cost of AZM 14,442,417 thousand and AZM 10,310,753 thousand, respectively, which management estimate approximates fair value.

28. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Bank opened 2 new branches (“Gandja” and “Shamahi”) in Azerbaijan.

The debt securities issued by the Bank described in the Note 21 were fully redeemed at maturity.

The authorized and issued but not paid share capital in the amount of AZM 1,000,000 thousand, as discussed in the Note 24, was paid. Additional 25,000 shares with a par value of 100 thousand each amounting to AZM 2,500,000 thousand were authorized, issued and fully paid.

The shareholders resolved to pay a 12.5% dividend (AZM 250,000 thousand) on the preference shares, which is AZM 12.5 thousand per share.

29. REGULATORY MATTERS

Quantitative measures established by regulation to ensure capital adequacy require the Bank to maintain minimum amounts and ratios (as set forth in the table below) of total and tier 1 capital to risk weighted assets.

The capital is calculated as the amount of restricted and free components of the shareholders’ capital plus the Bank’s provisions for the principal risks.

The ratio was calculated according to the principles employed by the Basle Committee by applying the following risk estimates:

Estimate	Description of position
0%	Cash and balances with the National Bank of Azerbaijan
0%	State debt securities in Azerbaijan Manats
20%	Loans and advances to banks for up to 1 year
100%	Loans and advances to customers
100%	Other assets
0%	Standby letters of credit secured by customer funds
50%	Other standby letters of credit and other transaction related contingent obligations and commitments on unused loans with the initial maturity of over 1 year
100%	Guarantees issued and similar commitments

The Bank’s actual capital amounts and ratios are presented in the following table:

Capital amounts and ratios	Actual Amount in AZM thousand	For Capital Adequacy purposes Amount in AZM thousand	Ratio For Capital Adequacy purposes	Minimum Required Ratio

30. RISK MANAGEMENT POLICIES

Management of risk is fundamental to the banking business and is an essential element of the Bank's operations. The main risks inherent to the Bank's operations are those related to credit exposures, liquidity and market movements in interest rates and foreign exchange rates. A description of the Bank's risk management policies in relation to those risks follows.

The Bank manages the following risks:

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk refers to the availability of sufficient funds to meet deposit withdrawals and other financial commitments associated with financial instruments as they actually fall due. In order to manage liquidity risk, the Bank performs daily monitoring of expected future cash flows on clients' and banking operations, which is a part of the assets/liabilities management process. The Assets and Liabilities Management Committee sets limits on the minimum proportion of maturing funds available to meet deposit withdrawals and on the minimum level of interbank and other borrowing facilities that should be in place to cover withdrawals at unexpected levels of demand.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk arises from the possibility that changes in interest rates will affect the value of the financial instruments. The following table presents an analysis of interest rate risk and thus the potential of the Bank for gain or loss. Effective interest rates are presented by categories of financial assets and liabilities to determine interest rate exposure and effectiveness of the interest rate policy used by the Bank.

As disclosed in the maturity analysis below, the maturity dates applicable to the majority of the Bank's assets and liabilities are relatively short-term. The Bank monitors its interest rate margin and consequently does not consider itself exposed to significant interest rate risk or consequential cash flow risk.

The analysis of interest rate and liquidity risk on balance sheet transactions is presented in the following tables:

The majority of the Bank's interest earning assets and interest bearing liabilities are at fixed rates of interest.

Asset and liability maturity periods and the ability to replace interest liabilities at an acceptable cost when they mature are crucial in determining the Bank's liquidity and its susceptibility to fluctuations in interest rates and exchange rates.

Currently, a considerable part of customer deposits are repayable on demand. However, the fact that these deposits are diversified by the number and type of customers and the Bank's previous experience indicates that these deposits are a stable and long-term source of finance for the Bank.

Currency risk

Currency risk is defined as the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Bank is exposed to the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing foreign currency exchange rates on its financial position and cash flows. The Management Board sets limits on the level of exposure by currencies. These limits also comply with the minimum requirements of the NBA. The Bank's exposure to foreign currency exchange rate risk is presented in the table below:

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual security or its issuer or factors affecting all securities traded in the market. The Bank is exposed to market risks on its products which are subject to general and specific market fluctuations. The Bank manages market risk through periodic estimations of potential losses that could arise from adverse changes in market conditions and establishing and maintaining appropriate stop-loss limits and margin and collateral requirements. With respect to undrawn loan commitments the Bank is potentially exposed to loss in an amount equal to the total amount of such commitments. However, the likely amount of loss is less than that, since most commitments are contingent upon certain conditions set out in the loan agreements.

Credit risk

The Bank is exposed to credit risk which is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation and cause the other party to incur a financial loss. The Bank structures the levels of credit risk it undertakes by placing limits on the amount of risk accepted in relation to one borrower, or groups of borrowers.

Limits on the level of credit risk by borrower are reviewed and approved by the Supervisory Board twice a year. Actual exposure per borrower against limits is monitored on new loans granted. The Credit Committee may initiate a change in the limits, however this must be approved by the Supervisory Board.

Where appropriate, and in the case of most loans, the Bank obtains collateral and corporate guarantees. The credit risks are monitored on a continuous basis and are subject to annual or more frequent reviews, especially where no such security can be obtained.

Commitments to extend credit represent unused portions of credit in the form of loans, guarantees or letters of credit. The credit risk on off-balance sheet financial instruments is defined as a probability of losses due to the inability of the counterparty to comply with the contractual terms and conditions. With respect to credit risk on commitments to extend credit, the Bank is potentially exposed to loss in an amount equal to the total unused commitments. However, the likely amount of loss is less than the total unused commitments since most commitments to extend credit are contingent upon customers maintaining specific credit standards. The Bank applies the same credit policy to the contingent liabilities as it does to the balance sheet financial instruments, i.e. the one based on the procedures for approving the grant of loans, using limits to mitigate the risk, and current monitoring. The Bank monitors the term to maturity of credit commitments because longer term commitments generally have a greater degree of credit risk than shorter-term commitments.
